To-day is the longest day of the year.

If the people of the Rio Grande valley must have reservoirs at once they will have to move to Roswell.

It will be easy for Cannon to preside over the Chicago convention after his recent experience with the Illinois state convention.

THE RECORD predicts that the Hodo reservoir will be the first reservoir completed in the United States under the present reclamation act.

Chicago the next few days will have a bigger show than St. Louis, but about July 6th St. Louis with her two big shows will attract so much attention that Chicago had just as well get of the map for the time being.

Business is picking up in all lines of trade.

According to program this will be the proceedings of the Chicago convention to-morrow: Prayer by the Rev. Thomas E. Cox; report of the committee on resolutions; report of the committee on permanent organization; introduction and speech of the permanent chairman, Joseph G. Cannon; report of committee on rules; naming by state delegations of the members of the new national committee.

THE CONVENTION TO-DAY.

Today the Republican national convention convenes at Chicago. For three days it will be in session. There will be no surprises. The leaders have completed the program to the minutest detail. It is on record the part that each delegate will take. Like players who have committed their parts the speeches will be spoken and the motions made, with intervals allowed for forced cheering and tumultuous applause. Nothing has been forgotten, and the only thing that will cause a hitch in the proceedings is the forgetfulness of some delegate who may not recollect his cue. Barring an accident of that kind, all will go merry and the work that has been mapped out will be completed on schedule time.

Roosevelt of course will be nominated Thursday, unanimously. The delegates will all vote for him, but few of them want him. Yet they are there to nominate him, and the cheers that follow will be like the smile on the face of a boy who takes a dose of medicine and is too brave to cry about it, but gives the sickly smile instead. The people of the party have ordered the delegates to take the medicine, and the dose will be taken with all the courage and cheerfulness possible.

The monotony of the proceeding at Chicago is only equaled by the professed confidence of success in November. But the best laid schemes of politicians as well as "mice and men gang aft agley." It is almost five months before the voters of the country will pass on the actions of this convention. What may transpire in five months to change political conditions no prophet can safely predict. This supreme confidence which the leaders of the Republican party now profess may be but the forerunner of a defeat so disastrous to the methods and candidates of the Chicago convention, that never again will the present "cut and dried" convention program be repeated.

competence and patriotism, fitted to fill the offices for which they are nominated, to the credit and honor of our Country.

We shall ask it because the present policies of our government are beneficial and ought not be set aside; and the people's business is being well done, and ought not to be interfered with.

At every election, the regulation of trusts has been the football of campaign oratory and the subject of many insincere declarations.

Our Republican administration has taken up the subject in a practical, sensible way as a business rather than a political question, saying what it really meant, and doing what lay at its hands to be done to accomplish effective regulation.

The Attorney General has gone on in the same practical way, not to talk about the trusts, but to proceed against the trusts by law for their regulation. In separate suits fourteen of the great railroads of the country have been restrained by injunction from giving illegal rebates to the favored shippers, who by means of them were driving out the smaller shippers and monopolizing the grain and meat business of the country. This beef trust was put under injunction. The Northern Securities Company which undertook by combining in one ownership the capital stock of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern Railroads to end traffic competition in the North west, has been destroyed by a vigorous prosecution expedited and brought to a speedy and effective conclusion in the Supreme Court under the act of February 11th, 1903.

We have at last reached a point where the public wealth of farm land which has seemed so inexhaustible is nearly gone, and the problem of utilizing the remainder for the building of new homes has become of vital importance.

The present administration has dealt with this problem vigorously and effectively. Great areas had been unlawfully fenced in by men of large means and the home builder had been excluded. Many of these unlawful aggressors have been compelled to relinquish their booty, and more than 2,000,000 acres of land have been restored to the public. The further denudation of forest areas, producing alternate floods and dryness in our river valleys, has been checked by the extension of forest reserves, which have been to aggregate more than 63,000,000 acres of land. The reclamation by irrigation of the vast arid regions forming the chief part of our remaining public domain, has been provided for by the National Reclamation Law of June 17th, 1902. The execution of this law, without taxation and by the application of the proceeds of public land sales alone, through the construction of storage reservoirs for water, will make many millions of acres of fertile lands available for settlement. Over 33,000,000 acres of public lands in fourteen states and territories have been embraced in the sixty-seven projects which have been divided and are under examination, and on eight of these the work of actual construction has begun.

The Postal service has been extended and improved. Its revenues have been increased from $76,000,000 in 1895 to $95,000,000 1899 and over 144,000,000 in 1904. In dealing with these vast sums, a few cases of speculation, trifling in amount and by sub
